

Mailing lists and the long term

Most e-mail passes through just two large providers

Discussion lists are not valuable to e-mail businesses

Discussion lists suffer when legitimate list traffic is treated as junk

This diminishes our transparency and openness

- Should we plan for a time when discussion lists aren't viable?
- Are mailing lists an acceptable medium for people new to the industry?